Holy Week To Be Held On Campus During Lent

by BUCK McMAHON

The Holy Year is coming to St. Michael's!

It is coming as a Holy Week that will run from Feb. 26 to March 5th.

This observance is in accordance with Bishop Ryan's wish that each Vermont parish devote a week during 1950 to the celebration of Holy Year. The Sodality of the Blessed Virgin will sponsor Holy Week, with the N.F.C.C.S. working with them.

The week is planned so as to give all students, off-campus and on, a chance to make devotions. Everyone will receive a copy of the official Holy Year prayer, which has a heavy indulgence attached to it.

Most of the religious exercises of the week are the established ones. It is hoped that the spirit of this Holy Week will draw more to the devotions that are a regular part of the campus religious calendar. There will be several devotions every day of the week. They are scheduled so every student may make one or more.

HOLY WEEK PROGRAM

Sun. - Feb. 26:
10:00 a.m.-Holy Week opens with High Mass
1:00 p.m.-Rosary in chapel
5:45 p.m.-Benediction, at which Holy Year prayer will be recited

The Angelus will be recited over the p.a. system at 12 and 6 every day of the week. All students will receive the Angelus prayers and are expected to pause at these hours and pray with the speaker. The morning Angelus will not be said over the p.a. system.

Mon. - Feb. 27:
7:00 and 7:30 a.m. - Mass
8:00 - Angelus
12:00 - Angelus
1:00 - Rosary
5:45 - Stations of the Cross
6:00 - Angelus

Tues. - Feb. 28:
Same as on Monday except:
5:45 - Benediction

Wed. - Mar. 1:
Same as Monday throughout

Thurs. - Mar. 2:
Same as Tuesday, with Benediction opening the Nocturnal Adoration. Prayer of Holy Year will be said during Nocturnal Adoration.

Fri. - Mar. 3:
Same as Thursday. Nocturnal Adoration will close with the 5:45 Benediction.

Sat. - Mar. 4:
7:00 and 7:30 - Mass
8:00 - Angelus
12:00 - Angelus
1:00 - Rosary
5:45 - Night Prayers, with prayer for the Holy Year.

Sun. - Mar. 5:
Holy Week closes with High Mass at 10:00 a.m.

Confessions will be heard before 7 o'clock Mass every morning, except Sunday, and each evening, Monday through Sat., after devotions.

CONCERT IN APRIL

Final arrangements are being made for the annual Mission Crusade Concert to be held on April second. Father Maurice Boucher, moderator of the club, has announced that Joe Dursi from New York City will be the guest artist of the evening.

SAC Talks On Club Status

The members of the SAC finally got a look at the student activity calendar for 1950-51 at the meeting Feb. 15.

A general evaluation of the calendar shows several major changes. There will be a basketball game for the Winter Carnival Weekend next year. Another change is that the Senior Ball will take its title from the theme of this past year's dance and will be known as the Ring Dance.

Some possible changes still not fully worked out include arranging the activities for Michaelmas Day which comes in September and for President's Day which is in November.

Another innovation was the setting of a date for the holding of the senior investiture. The calendar was accepted by the Council with a few minor details still to be worked out in the committee.

Foiled Again

John Swift, the Duke, and Bob Lilly, Sir Andrew who match wits and swords in " Twelfth Night."

"Twelfth Night" Opens Here Wednesday Night

Next Wednesday night, the Knights and Knaves will present the first St. Michael's performance of Shakespeare's famous comedy " Twelfth Night." A second performance will be given on Thursday night.

Admission will be sixty (60) cents for students. Reserved seats are now on sale in Burlington at ninety cents and one dollar and twenty cents.

This rollicking comedy is directed by the Rev. Edward Tining and contains a notable cast of characters many of whom need no introduction. A couple of promising newcomers are making their debut in this play which should be more than worth the price of admission.

The feminine roles will be filled by Alberta Hogan as the Countess Olivia, Peggy O'Brien as Viola and Rita Schoen as Maria. Male members of the cast are John Swift as the Duke Orsino, Howard Lancour as Sebastian, Tom Lambert as Antonio, Bill Heenehan as Sir Toby Belch, Bob Lilly as Sir Andrew Aguecheek, Paul Mitchell as Malvolio, Bill Kennedy as Fabian, Leo Allard as Feste, a clown, Tom Geno as a sea captain, Frank Becher, the priest and Gus Contant as Curio.

Past performances have taught us to expect enjoyable productions and good theater from the Knights and Knaves. We have every reason to believe that with such a well chosen cast of characters and so strong a play the success of this production is certain. " Twelfth Night" is considered by many to be Shakespeare's best comedy.

The costumes have been ordered direct from Boston and should add greatly to the effect of the play, while the settings are of a very original nature.

Prof. O'Bierne Talks At IRC Conference

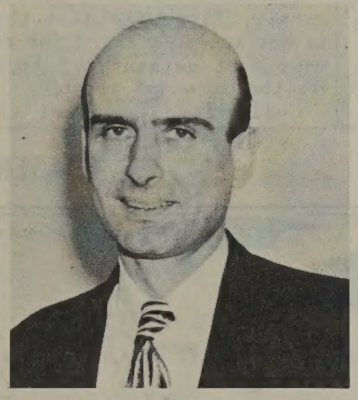
Saturday afternoon, Feb. 18, the Vermont International Relations Council held its monthly meeting at St. Michael's College. Thirty-five delegates from six schools were present.

In the morning the question of how to improve International Relations Clubs on campus was discussed at length. Mr. Yokalb, professor of Far Eastern Affairs at Goddard College, contributed many pertinent suggestions.



PROF. O'BIERNE

Following a discussion, the proposed, " Constitution of the Vermont International Relations Council" was ratified with a few minor changes.

The students then adjourned to the dining hall for a luncheon. After the meal the Rev. Vincent Maloney cordially welcomed the delegates to St. Michael's

In the afternoon Prof. James O'Beirne, the moderator of the International Relations Club on campus, gave an exceptionally fine speech on " The Accomplishments of the U.N."

The coming meetings of the Vermont IRC will be held in March at Trinity College and in April at Lyndon State Teachers College.

The next meeting of the IRC on campus will be held Tuesday, Feb. 28.

Freshman Class Elections To Be Held This Week

St. Michael's freshman class holds its election next Friday but it looks like a one party affair.

According to the regulations each party was required to post a notice in this issue of the MICHAELMAN but the only party which actually complied was the one headed by John Chachere and including for the most part the candidates elected in the first election last November.

This party lists John Chachere, president; John Amarel, vice-president; Phil Galligan, treasurer; and Walt Good, secretary. The SAC representatives are: John Barry, Pete Clifford, Harold Daniels, Tom Geno, and Joe Lively.

The voting is due to continue all day Friday at the entrance to Aquinas Hall.

Should Unions Come Under Monopoly Laws?

Atty. Pearley Feen, a local corporation lawyer upheld the affirmative last night (Friday) against Mr. J. William Belanger, Int. Vice-President of the Textile Workers of America. The debate was scheduled for 7:45 in Austin Hall.

Will Justice Triumph?

Galligan Trial Tuesday

Winooski Park, Vt., Feb. 28 (MM)

This little snow covered campus was tense today as the students and faculty alike waited expectantly for next Tuesday afternoon when Phil " Digger" Galligan is due to go on trial.

It is more than a month since the fabulous and famous Brinks' robbery in Boston's Back Bay. It is close to a month since red-headed Galligan was detected in Ludlow flagrently trying to spend a ten dollar bill.

All Vermont has been holding its breath waiting for Tuesday afternoon at four when Galligan takes the stand in Austin Hall.

Here are the men in whose hands rests the fate of Phillip " Digger" Galligan:

Suave Judge DON POWERS, was noncommittal when approached this week by correspondents of the MM press. " We'll have law north of the Winooski, one way or another," Powers said, " and you can quote me on that and on that alone."

For brash and bull necked prosecuting Attorney RAY O'KEEFE, there is no opening for doubt. " The scales of justice have been weighed," O'Keefe growls, " and Galligan has been found wanting. Society must have its due."

Although to most the situation looks black, dapper defense Attorney TOM ROUSELLE, is far from defeated. " Why it's just a boyish prank," Rouselle objects. " Anyone could have done it. It's not as if Phil has taken TWO million dollars."

But while the controversy raged and raged, one man was indifferent and undisturbed. For lanky, carefree Phil Galligan this is just another episode. " I wish those guys would stop persecuting me," Galligan complained as he lit his cigar with a ten dollar bill. " I ain't done nothing."

Fr. Hebert Has More Jobs

Seniors or recent grads interested in insurance sales and home office management should contact Fr. Hebert as soon as possible.

There are openings in several Vermont and Massachusetts areas, including: Windsor, Vt.; Springfield, Vt.; Rutland, Vt.; Bennington, Vt.; Bellows Falls, Vt.; Adams, Mass. and North Adams, Mass.

Fr. Hebert's office in Old Hall also has information on many civil service exams which will be coming up in the next few months.

EDITORIAL

This is a big year for the Catholic Church. Such a year doesn't come very often, so when it does the Church goes all out to make it a good one. It's too bad everyone can't make the trip to Rome to take part in all the devotions and ceremonies that will be going on all year. Must be some way we can share in the spirit of this wonderful Holy Year. Say! There is!

We're going to have a bit of Holy Year right here on campus. From February 26th to March 5th there will be enough religious exercises to put everyone in the Holy Year spirit. Plenty of opportunity to show our pride in our Church and gain some indulgences.

The way the week's program is set up hardly anyone could miss all the devotions held every day. At least one a day could and should be attended. The program is printed elsewhere in this issue of the Michaelman.

This Holy Week is really a break for us. Our Holy Father has urged all Catholics to make this a year of prayer for peace and faith. When he calls on all Catholics like that it shows that every little bit each of us does really counts.

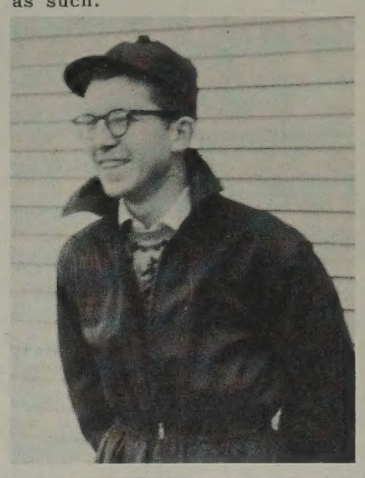
" What benefits do you expect to receive from a Catholic College Education ?

JIM CONBOY COHOES, N.Y.
I expect to derive from my Catholic College education a deeper insight and understanding of the religious problems that face the world today; from this understanding I can establish for myself a form of correct Christian life!

GIL LECLERC SANFORD, MAINE
There are numerous benefits that can be derived from a Catholic College education; one of these is a specific knowledge of religious beliefs; and that these same beliefs are based on proven facts which are in themselves true and not merely accepted as such.



BILL ACTON BIDDEFORD, MAINE
Through a Catholic College education I expect to receive a true sense of value for use in post-graduate life, in order to be better equipped socially, economically and religiously!

This year, a new and somewhat confident crop of college graduates will come off the assembly line to be exposed to the " enjoyments of life." Perhaps, like new cars, they will roll out into the sun and be dazzled by their own reflection and brilliance. But that is neither here nor anywhere. What is here is the fact that many a survey has been conducted throughout the country on these intellectuals and the frame of mind they are in upon graduation (God willing).

Through the medium of questions and answers, these surveyors find out for the general and not so general public just what these college grads expect, why they expect it, and from whom they expect it. These surveys are, for the most part authentic.

I have conducted a similar survey. It is the part that is not included in, " for the most part authentic." It is for the universal sceptic.

Collecting together the usual assortment of success seekers, I outlined to them my prospective survey. They agreed to give me their views relating to their future by answering my questions related to said subject.

After " Sam Spade" signed off, they doffed their golf caps, parked their gum in the usual places and gave me their divided attention. Some chewed fresh gum, others chewed match sticks and toothpicks, and the older men just chewed. I began to question them and the results are as follows:

QUESTION NO. 1: " How much money do you expect to make in the immediate future?" ...

One nice looking student looked up and replied in like manner, " What's playing at the movies tonight?" ... The result of this answer goes to prove that the average graduate doesn't want to make a killing immediately when he goes forth to plunder the world. He does not expect to make the little needle on the Seismograph at Fordham University do an Irish Dance. The man of tomorrow will be content to make a few grand and start from there.

QUESTION NO. 2: " What is your ultimate ambition in life?"

The response was worth all my efforts in this survey. Some men wanted to be Bubble Gum tycoons. The majority wanted to raise potatoes, sell them to the government, and retire on the farm to write their memoirs for the benefit of mankind.... One brave soul thought he might get married. No one has spoken to him since.

QUESTION NO. 3: " In your own words, what was the most important thing you learned in college?"

To this question a number of reactions occurred. 15 per cent of the group immediately went to sleep. 40 per cent looked at me, then turned to their " Batman Comics." The remaining 45 per cent gave direct answers without a moment's hesitation. Some recited the Gettysburg Address verbatim ac litteratim. Others discussed the fallacies of Spenser's " Faerie Queene." Two meek characters boldly stated that they had learned to get along with other people. These two joined the one who thought he might get married. (I heard later that they plan to start a " I-am-falsely-accused," society in the backwaters of the Island of Ulithi in the South Seas.

QUESTION NO. 4: " Why did you come to college?"

One of the students jumped to his bare feet and with a forefinger raised over his head shouted, " Sir, that is a leading question and under the existing conditions it is immaterial, inconsequential, and has no relative bearing on said case." Another muttered, " Strike the question from the record." Someone else burped. The attorney for the people turned to his audience and gave them a satisfied smile. Perhaps it was unfair, I thought.

Our interview thus came to an end, or should I say to a point. Time was getting short and I was getting more so. I thanked one and all for their interest shown in the survey, and with a nod of my spinning head, I left. Come to think of it, no one did say what picture was playing at the movies, did they?

Rouelle Does Well At Lowell

What means this? After elaborate plans had been made, the Boston trip was hastily cancelled. It certainly seems too bad that a team with the fine season's record that this year's edition of the Knights has won't have a little support when they move into the Arena next week against St. Anselm's. The Hawks, although their season's record isn't too impressive will be tough to beat on the Boston floor. They've got a senior club and playing in the Garden and Arena is old stuff to them by now. On top of that the Hawks will be put to avenge the two defeats the Knights all ready have pinned on them this season. The Boston sportswriters hold the Hawks high in their esteem too so a win for the Knights under the noses of the Hub scribes will go a long way in giving the Purple dribblers the recognition they deserve for the fine season they've had.

Although the transportation and hotel reservations have been cancelled, student and guest tickets for the game may be purchased in Room 112, Old Hall starting today. The price is $1.50 for the student tickets and $2.75 for the guest ducats.

Bill Hart, last year's three sport star, will play with the St. Anthony Crusaders of North Adams in the prelim to next week's SM-Williams game. Bill was the big star in last year's game, getting 11 points as the Knights took a 63-52 victory from the Ephmen. Incidently in last week's column I said that Williams had won last year's tilt. That was strictly an error and the paper wasn't out an hour before I got the blast from members of the team about it.

Knights Finish Away With Three This Week

by DAN TARPEY

Coach Barry Branon's basketball cagers, already hailed as one of the finest college quintets ever assembled on Vermont courts, will wind up their gruelling 22 game schedule this week and next away from the home front.

The Knights, sporting a brilliant 16-3 record, and currently riding on the crest of an eight-game winning streak will be tangling with Middlebury on Tuesday night. It will be Williams the following eve, and will finish their basketball festivities against St. Anselm's Saturday night at the Boston Arena.

SHOULD BE CLOSE

Although the Knights' record is far superior, and the Branonmen already hold a decision over the Panthers, Tuesday's contest still shapes up as a thriller.

Many observers of the last fray believe that young Danny McCarthy, the superb set shot artist from Troy, N.Y., was the sole difference between the teams. Furthermore, the Panthers with their unimpressive record have nothing to lose and everything to gain in trying to knockoff the newly crowned state champs.

Wednesday night at Williamstown the Branon courtmen will hold the Ephmen from Williams College in great respect, and well they might, for the Ephmen drubbed Amherst, who in turn hold a decision over the Knights. However, the Branonmen will definitely be out to prove that it was physical weariness that caused them to fall at the hands of the inferior hoopmen from Amherst.

WINNING STREAK

Since that taste of defeat the Knights have really regained their winning streak in full swing with Burzenski, Stapleton, McCarthy, Fitzgerald, Duffy, and Jimmy Farley swishing the nets with reckless abandon.

BACKBOARD SPECIALISTS

The big guns of the Williams forces are Bob Larson and Harry Sheehy. Both are 6' 4" and are known to make use of their elongated frames beneath the backboards. These are the two who will have to be shackled if the Knights are anticipating win No. 18.

On Saturday morning over 100 loyal rooters will jump on the victory wagon and follow the Purple Knights to the old Beantown where they encounter St. Anselm's for the 3rd time this season. "Big" Russ Bastin and Bud O'Connor make the forces from Manchester, N.H., a constant threat while they're in the lineup.

Of course this is the big one from the point of fans who live in the Boston area. This is the game the Knights have to really go to town in if they want to climb up in the final New England ratings.

Arnold Newcomer To B-Ball Slate

Despite the frigid weather of the past week Doc Jacobs turned his thoughts to Spring long enough to announce this year's varsity baseball schedule. The slate includes 13 games with one tilt pending with Boston College and only one team that wasn't met by last year's nine. This new team is Arnold College of New Haven. Jacobs also said that the six home games would be played on the Knights' new Athletic field.

The Purple Knights will open their season at Loudonville, New York, against Siena on April 21st and will close on May 30th with the traditional game with UVM at Centennial Field, Burlington.

The Schedule:

April 21, Siena at Loudonville, N.Y.; 22, Amherst at Amherst, Mass.

May 2, Norwich at home; 3, Champlain at Plattsburg, N.Y.; 4, UVM at home; 6, Middlebury at home; 13, Williams at Williamstown, Mass.; 14, Arnold at home; 17, Middlebury at Middlebury; 20, Siena at home; 23, St. Lawrence at home; 27, Norwich at Northfield; 30, UVM at Burlington.

Forrest Finishes High At Lowell

by RAY DOHERTY

When Forrest Rouelle stepped out of the ring at Lowell, Mass., last Tuesday night the fight fans there, who had come to witness the 1950 New England Golden Gloves bouts, knew that they had just seen a fighter with plenty of ring "know-how" coupled with an equal amount of "guts."

The St. Michael's sophomore, who was the Vermont 147 pound Golden Glove champ, showed both in winning his semi-final bout and losing in the finals that he could give and take alike. On Monday night in the semi-finals Forrest was forced to contend with the wrestling like tactics of New Hampshire's representative, Ed Patenaude, but strict conditioning proved to be the decisive factor as the Michaelman staved off his wild opponent and won by split decision.

However, in winning this fight Rouelle suffered rope burns and a painful muscle injury in his right shoulder. Due to physical therapy Forrest was able to go through with his Tuesday night bout. This was the final, and Andy Anderson the boy the Vermont champ was up against was definitely NOT considered a push-over. The classy negro from the New Bedford team was ranked as one of the best, if not the best, in the tournament. The fight game was nothing new to him since he had won the all-Navy welterweight title among others. At 1:09 of the first round the referee was forced to halt the fight when Rouelle suffered a bad opening near his left eye. Up until that moment both boys mixed it up and other than the cut he received Rouelle was alright.

Harry Young the other St. Michael's entry in the 160 pound division did not fare quite as well as Rouelle. In the semi-finals on Monday night Harry was K.O.'d in the second round by Johnny Jameson of New Hampshire. Harry stood up under plenty of punishment that would have floored many another fighter before the ref called a halt at 1:02 of the second stanza.

Rouelle was the second Vermonter in Vermont Golden Glove history to fight in the finals. His teammate Ronald Rostkowski in the 112 pound division was the first.

The New England team trophy was captured by the Lowell team.

Plans Shape Up For Junior Prom

by RALPH DIEHL

A notable once said in reference to doing something well, "Plan your work then work your plan."

The Junior class is doing just that.

The class has already planned its work for the forthcoming Junior Prom which will be held early in May..Committees have been set up, members assigned to these committees, and a general outline for the big event has been drawn up. The only thing left to do now is to work out their plan. When this is done, the Junior Prom with the Senior weekend will be, from the looks of the plans, quite an affair indeed.

As yet, no positive information has been given as to who the band will be, but negotiations are being made now with some top name bands. The results will be announced at a future date.

The general chairman of the affair is Joe Shea. Assisting him are co-chairmen Bob Canavan and Raymond Doherty. Publicity will be in the hands of Tim Murphy, Bob Flanagan, and Whit Bartlett. Bill Cofrances will take care of the negotiations for the band. Decorations: Charlie Guill, Dick Johnson, Marty Gleason, Ed Leavy, and Paul Devereaux. The handling and planning for the ticket arrangements will be taken care of by Bill O'Hearn, Andy Scanlon, and Bob Gelinas. Programs: Jim Whitlock. John Gallant will handle the finances. Captains of the waiters are Neil Mara, Tom Reavy, and Gerry Recore. Refreshments: George Lavallee and Bob Digan.

The plans are big for this Junior Prom and a lot of help will be needed. Any and all juniors interested in helping on a committee are asked to contact the general chairman, Joe Shea.

Phil Club

St. Michael's College students have organized a Philosophy club, called The Thomists.

Joseph J. Zacherer, 34 Waverly Street, Lowell, Mass., member of the ski team and a junior heads the club.

First discussion meeting on "The Heart of St. Thomas" will be on March 7, the feast of their patron St. Thomas Aquinas.

SAC Talks

John Chachere, freshman class president, presented the Mardi Gras budget. Demonstrating that he had the dance well organized, Chachere had received the appropriation from the Council.

The club status committee ended three months work by offering its answers to the question of how clubs should be organized and how recognized by the SAC. A regular system was set up which must be followed by all clubs which intend to organize in the future.

The Council refused a request for $60 submitted by the International Relations Club. The request was for funds to finance a dinner at which the campus organization was host to the groups from other colleges in the state.

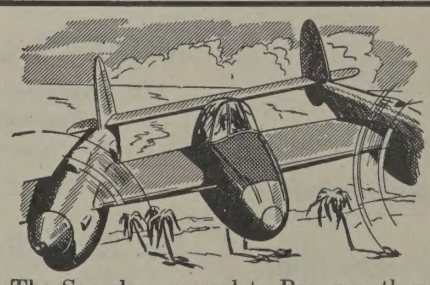
Major Bill Reynolds, Oregon '40
Pilot-Professor, U. S. Air Force!

Bill was an all-round athlete. He chose football as his favorite sport, made the varsity teams at Pomona Junior College and also at the University of Oregon.

A Theta Chi, Bill enjoyed campus social life. Found that it eased the pressure of rugged athletics and his heavy study schedule in Personnel Management.

Upon graduation, Bill chose a future in the Air Force. He "flew" his first Link trainer as an Aviation Cadet in 1940. By March, 1941, he had won his pilot wings.

The 1st Observation Squadron, Fort Riley, Kansas was Lieutenant Reynolds' first assignment. While there he met the future Mrs. Reynolds. They married a year later and now have two fine sons.



The Squadron moved to Panama, then to the Pacific. Bill advanced from pilot to operations officer to squadron commander. He came home a Major and qualified for a Regular Commission.

Recently commended for peacetime work—organizing and improving instruction techniques—Major Reynolds, a "Pilot-Professor", looks forward to a long and gainful career in the U. S. Air Force.

If you are single, between the ages of 20 and 26½, with at least two years of college, consider the many career opportunities as a pilot or navigator in the U. S. Air Force. Procurement Teams are visiting many colleges and universities to explain these career opportunities. Watch for them. You may also get full details at your nearest Air Force Base or U. S. Army and U. S. Air Force Recruiting Station, or by writing to the Chief of Staff, U. S. Air Force, Att: Aviation Cadet Branch, Washington 25, D. C.
